Honorable Sir,

The applicant begs to submit a renewed petition under 37 CFR 1.181, in response to the Office Action mailed to him on June 10, 2003, for withdrawing the holding of abandonment.

As indicated in the Office Action mailed on June 10, 2003, the applicant tried extensively again to determine the exact status of the PIN code for his address. The official government web site of INDIAPOST even on July 9, 2003 returns a PIN code 110034 for the locality entered as PITAMPURA. In order to cross check, the applicant tried to find the PIN code for SHALIMAR BAGH (where the new local post office is located). A search inside the INDIAPOST web site returned 110033 as its PIN code. All the search-result printouts are enclosed herewith. The authenticity of the web site cannot be doubted as it is managed by a government institution, Centre for Postal Technology and Excellence, Postal Training Centre, Mysore, India. Couple of printouts from this institution's home page are also attached. On the other hand, after an extensive search, the applicant could locate a copy of the notice with the local post office, which is being enclosed. The upper half of the notice is printed in Hindi using Devnagari script; an English translation follows. The office of the issuing authority is given in Hindi. A translation of the authority would read as follows: Deputy Superintendent of Post, Delhi Northern Region, Delhi-54.

Therefore, the applicant may conclude, going by the documentary evidence, that the local postal authorities recognize the effective date of change in PIN code as May 19, 2002. While, the official INDIAPOST government data base, updated till June 30, 2003, still shows PITAMPURA having 110034 as its PIN code. The Office may inspect the attached documents to check the facts.

The applicant finally begs the Office again to withdraw the holding of abandonment, in the light of the above-mentioned facts. The applicant is regularly receiving mail bearing both the PIN codes, namely, 110088 and 110034. There is a displayed discrepancy between the data of the local and central postal authorities in India in this regard. Furthermore, Postal Index Number (PIN) in India is not essential for finding an addressee. The postal delivery system in India is very personalized; the postman knows people personally. In addition, the applicant did not change his own place of residence at all. It is the government of India who decided to change the PIN code of his postal region without updating their own data base. The applicant begs the Office not to punish him for the confused action taken by his Government's Postal Department.

Respectfully yours,

Anadish Kumar Pal
